RCMP help with child luring case

Marnie Luffe
Western Review

An investigation between ALERT and Drayton Valley RCMP detachment has led to an arrest of a church pastor charged with child luring.

"One of our members
here, she actually latched onto it because it had been a file reported directly to us and we had engaged various resources including Internet Child Exploitation (ICE) unit," said Staff Sgt. Malcolm Callihno about Cat. Stephanie Leduc, who was working closely on the case.

The pastor with the Meevaan First Methodist Church in Duffield was charged with child luring in the case.

ALERT's (ICE) team
arrested Glenn Harvey Boyd on March 14 and charged the 58-year-old pastor.

Callihno confirmed that investigation found that there were text messages sent back and forth that were of a sexual nature.

Thunder in the Valley cancelled until further notice

Mamta Luthi
Western Review

Thunder in the Valley event won't be running in September this year as it has been for over the past decade.

With the downturn in the economy the sponsorship are not going to be there, And we do not want to go out there as a group and ask for people to support our event and they are not going to do that.

Northern Thunder Classic Car Club went to see some of its long-time sponsors and they thanked the group for making the decision.

"We went around to most of our major sponsors and got their opinion as to what we were doing was appropriate and they all thanked me," he said.

Deagle confirmed that local companies do not have a lot of disposable income and they need to use everything they have to keep themselves sustainable, so it would be wrong of the group to ask for sponsorships.

"I will be criss for us to go to them and ask for them to look at us, and last year was very difficult to get sponsorships. This year isn't going to be any better, so as a group, we decided to say that was the end of the event for now at least and go from there," he said.

When asked about hosting the event next year, Deagle said he doesn't believe the economy will turn around by then.

He also said it will be too late for the event if it was brought back in a couple of years.

"It takes two-three years to rebound, I doubt that it will make it back. You have lost all research, your momentum. People look forward to this event, and they have it on their calendar, so by that time they have found a new event to go to, in racing circle, I doubt they will be coming back," explained Deagle.

When asked about the difficulties the car club members had trying to get funding from the Town of Drayton Valley and Brazeau County last year and whether it had any effect on the decision the group has made this year, Deagle said "no comments".

The group has cancelled Thunder in the Valley event until further notice. But will be hosting its Swap Meet and Car Show in April and July respectively.

When asked why the other events weren't cancelled, Deagle explained the Thunder in the Valley needs a lot more effort than the other events.

"The annual car show is nowhere near the same amount of effort; it's a great effort but nowhere near how much work goes into Thunder in the Valley. Maybe 10 per cent of effort," he said.

Last year, Thunder in the Valley had fewer number of sponsors, and after covering all the expenses the event was barely able to break even, according to Deagle.

Thunder in the Valley event has been a local event for over a decade and it has now been cancelled until further notice.

Pastor charged with child luring thanks to local RCMP

An RCMP release stated in May 2015 the parents of a 15-year-old female found inappropriate text messages on her phone.

The texts were believed to be from an adult male that was known to the family through the church and youth social gatherings that the girl had participated in. The offense was first reported to Drayton Valley RCMP and ICE got involved later. ICE reviewed the text messages and was able to identify Boyde as a suspect. He was employed as a pastor when the alleged offenses took place, however, he was removed from his official position shortly after the complaint came forward.

"The Alert took over the file after a time but the investigator here was involved for the entire process," confirmed Callihoo.

Boyde was released from custody on a number of conditions. His next court appearance is scheduled for March 30 in Stony Plain.

Callihoo said with the increased use of technology, cases related to technology are becoming more and more common.

"With the technology becoming more and more prevalent you will see more of that type of thing happening," he said.

Comedy show to serve as fundraiser for DV Curling Club

Lectine Khoshak
Western Review

Join the Drayton Valley Curling Club for a night of laughter as the club puts on their third annual Comedy 2-nite on April 23 at the club's lounge.

There will be two comedians present at the event with Sean Lecomber as the main act and Ryan Short as the opening act. Lecomber is a comedian from Fort Saskatchewan who won the 2007 Just For Laughs Home Grown Competition. He also appeared in numerous television shows.

"We get two guys to come out and stand in front of us and entertain us for the evening," said event organizer Sabrina Hlushak.

The event will serve as the club's fundraiser and Hlushak encourages anyone over the age of 18 to come out and support the event.

"Comedy 2-nite is a fundraiser that we put on for the club," she said. "The money will go towards anything that the club needs from equipment, to ice, to heating, or anything like that. It is a good thing to help us out through the year."

Cocktails start at 6:30 p.m., show starts at 7:30 p.m. and dance to follow.

For tickets or more information, contact Hlushak at (780)898-1488. Tickets are sold for $25 each.

Private Member's Bill C-246 tabled, Eglinski says it's fundamentally flawed

Liberal MP Nathaniel Erskine-Smith tabled Bill C-246, 'An Act to amend the Criminal Code, the Fisheries Act, the Textile Labelling Act, the Wild Animal and Plant Protection and Regulation of International and Interprovincial Trade Act and the Canada Consumer Product Safety Act (animal protection). I believe in the importance of the humane treatment of animals. However, this bill goes far beyond what could be considered a reasonable strengthening of animal protection laws. The implications of this bill are significant to many Canadians, including farmers, ranchers, anglers, and hunters. If passed, this bill could also have significant effects on Canada's economy and impact the way of life of millions of Canadians. Bill C-246 appears to criminalize the following activities: A person waiting too long to put their animal down (in someone else's opinion) (182.2 (1)(a)). Any animal being killed by a human for any reason - "brutally or viciously, regardless of whether the animal dies immediately" appears to apply to all methods of killing an animal other than veterinarian chemical euthanasia. This has implications for hunting, fishing, trapping and possibly livestock production. (182.2 (1)(b)).

Accidental poisoning is not explicitly excluded, so failure to attend to a leak or spill of a toxic substance such as antifreeze could be a criminal act (182.2 (1)(d)). Training a dog to protect livestock or humans from predators. (182.2 (1)(e)). Accidentally killing an animal with a vehicle (if the driver was negligent in some way) (182.3 (1)(a) and (c)). This bill is fundamentally flawed and dangerous. I intend to review it carefully and ensure that the implications do not endanger the farmers, hunters and meat producers within the riding.

Taking a Journey back in time

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

Guests at the Max Centre in Drayton Valley took a trip back in time on March 12 when Absolute Journey paid tribute to the music group Journey and lead singer Steve Perry.

The Centre was literally rocking with the vibrations of the bass guitar, played by Paul Ross, with lead singer Riccardo Carzi belting out vocals, lead guitarist Lee Nichols playing some hot riffs, Kevin Wideman smacking the keyboards and Jeff Salem pounding on the drums. If you closed your eyes during their performance, you could swear you were at an original Journey concert. The group hails from Ontario and this is the first time they've played in Alberta. The previous night the group played in Camrose. Absolute Journey played to an older crowd at the Max that night, and it was indeed a trip back in time for the attendees.

Bass guitarist Paul Ross plays his real guitar while Absolute Journey lead singer Riccardo Carzi has some fun on his air guitar during a performance at the Max Centre on March 12. The band played two sets of music, some of it written by themselves while the majority of songs were originally performed by the real Journey band from a few decades ago under lead singer Steve Perry.

Safety nets and plexiglass

On March 16th of 2002, a 13-year-old Columbus Blue Jackets fan was hit by a puck which deflected off a hockey player's stick, forcing her head to snap backwards.

Although she walked out of the arena that night, she died two days later from a ruptured artery in her brain.

The following hockey season of that same year, the National Hockey League took immediate steps to ensure that this type of accident would never happen again. Up went hockey nets, and despite gripping by spectators shortly after they were installed, they still remain in place today, although they can now be removed or raised to allow for other on-ice activities.

There is no doubt the nets save lives; however, the installation of safety nets has caused nothing but grief for both professional photographers and sports journalists ever since.

Why? If used to be photographers would sit high up in the stands above the plexiglass to shoot their photographs. Since the nets have been installed, their only choice now is to stand in the front rows of the arenas, either in the corners or the ends of the rinks, with their lenses pressed up against, or close to, the plexiglass panels. These are also the areas where the pucks are hit the hardest and body checking is fiercest.

What does that lead to? Plexiglass panels that are so smudged with puck marks, sweat, saliva and the occasional blood spill that getting a clean photograph is next to impossible. And, depending upon the architecture of each arena, arena lights shine into the plexiglass, obscuring or blurring shots of hockey action.

Locally, this problem became abundantly clear during the Pee Wee Provincials hosted by Drayton Valley on March 11, 12, and 13 when a frustrated photographer finally asked a hockey official if he would clean a section of a plexiglass panel so she could take some decent photographs she was trying to sell on site.

Photographers are really not asking for much, but since their livelihoods really depend on good working conditions, perhaps arena maintenance staff could consider some extra cleaning of the plexiglass a few more times during hockey season.

How to survive life

Sometimes life is made of cotton candies and rainbows, but sometimes life feels like a big nightmare and you can't seem to wake yourself up. You may feel like you are experiencing sleep paralysis because you are aware of what is happening, but you just can't seem to wake up. You try your very best to open your eyes, but you are stuck.

So how should you deal with life when it's just not going the way you want it to? Here are some tips I have come up with.

First, shut the negativity out. There is no room for drama, stress, worries, and unpleasant people in life. If someone makes you feel bad, then surround yourself with love and positive energy like cute dogs and true friends to overpower the negative energy or at least balance and when your body feels good then it makes you feel good. However, stuffing my face with chocolate or ice cream works better for me. So, I guess this is a personal choice you have to make on your own.

Fourth, go on an adventure. It does not have to be far. You don't have to splurge all of your money to go to the other side of the world, although,

I would highly recommend it. You can just go to a local park and people watch or go for a walk on a nearby trail. Go out and explore because who knows what you may find.

Lastly, if all else fails, grab a cozy and warm blanket. Wrap it around yourself until you look like a human burrito. Go to sleep and hope that this nightmare will soon be gone when you wake up.

Third, I would say eat healthy because it does make your body feel good things out.

Second, read books. Bury your nose in a story that will take you to unknown places and make friends with characters of a book. This helps you take your mind off of reality, even for just a little bit. And to be honest, reading a book is so much better than binge-watching on Netflix.

Financial costs and human costs

Some things legislators vote on cost money, and only money. Other things demand a money cost, which can be a lot more difficult to evaluate. There is no hand-and-fast rule. Generally, it involves looking for ways to measure the pain, grief, and suffering that a hasty or poorly conceived government policy can create.

One policy that's imposing ever-increasing financial and human costs worldwide is poorly planned, badly executed electrical policy—specifically, green energy and the quest to stamp out carbon dioxide. It's a well-intended initiative that the Alberta government wants to get into in a big way. The problem is that no one knows the total costs involved.

Originally, Ontario's so-called green objective was said to be a good idea. Yet today, the province has the highest priced industrial power rates in North America. Ontario's Auditor General recently reported that consumers paid $37 billion above market price for electricity in a single eight-year period.

Between now and 2032, consumers will pay an additional $133 billion over and above the actual market price. If you add it up, the overpayment is roughly equal to 25% of Canada's National Debt.

To accumulate the national debt took two world wars and almost 150 years. Ontario did this to themselves with a single legislative policy.

According to the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, one in twenty businesses will close due to electricity costs. The problem has become so acute that some of the big industrial power users are moving away. As far as they're concerned, neither they nor anyone else can afford to overpay for electricity to the tune of $170 billion.

The Ontario government's own website says that low-income households are spending 10% or more of their incomes on electricity, forcing the government to think through and establish subsidy programs, which place a further drag on jobs and the economy.

These aren't just economic costs. They're human costs. Clearly, cost-efficient renewable energy makes sense and should be pursued. But putting on blinders and marching off the green energy cliff is silly. (The height of Ontario's silliness came in the conversion of a coal-fired facility to a biomass plant that only runs on imported Norwegian wood chips, generating energy at 25 times the average cost.)

Now it appears that Alberta has decided to follow Ontario's lead. In its desire to put an early end to the use of coal (including clean coal technology), our government intends to prematurely shut down Alberta's coal-fired electrical generation plants.

No one actually knows the policy's cost—financial or human—nor do we know the effect it might have on the investment community and business sector. Based on the experience of Ontario and other jurisdictions, we do know that it'll be expensive. The additional billions flowing into higher-priced government-mandated electrical generation are billions that will be diverted from useful spending and productive investment.

For Alberta, this policy is going to affect individuals, businesses, and entire communities (e.g. Forestburg, Hanna). Even so, the government hasn't consulted with any of these people, nor with Albertans as a whole. Instead, it's assuming that its philosophical commitment to quickly ending coal-fired generation must take priority over dialogue, financial considerations, and the stark human cost that the policy will extract.

The above article was co-ponsored by a small group of Official Opposition MLAs who each week get together to talk through a legislative policy issue. As part of the process, a short commentary is compiled and then edited.

St. Paddy's Day fundraiser held for CSTS

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

There was a green glow throughout the Mackenzie Conference Centre on March 12 as the annual St. Paddy's Day Fund-raising Event was held by the Community Scholarship Trust Society. The glow was actually from spotlights in the ceiling that threw light onto the packed room filled with attendees, prize tables and silent and live auction items, including a full-page ad from the Western Review.

Following a sumptuous beef dinner, attendees whipped out their bingo daubers and played Music Bingo until two winners were announced. During the bingo, attendees also had a chance to win free drink tickets by singing a song. Only Wanda Dubois took up the challenge for the night. Musical bingo was followed by the live auction.

The first item of the night, called the Red Carpet Experience was successfully auctioned off for $1,300. A total of 13 special packages were bid for during the evening ranging from fitness activities and yoga retreats to golf packages and tickets to Big Valley Jamboree.

Drayton Valley hosts Pee Wee Provincials

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

Drayton Valley played host to seven out-of-town peewee teams over the weekend of March 11, 12 and 13 for the Provincial championships.

This was the first time since 2004 that Drayton Valley had the honor of hosting the Provincials, and the organizing committee were busy making sure students were aware of the Provincials by sending Alberta Hockey's mascot, Pete the Puck, into Evergreen School to rally some support for the local team.

Teams in Pool A were Airdrie, who finished in first place, Kitchissippi, who placed second, Drayton Valley, who finished in third place followed by High Prairie in fourth place.

Pool B teams were Westlock, finishing first, Thorby, placing second, New Sarepta, coming in third and Lethbridge, finishing in fourth place. Consequently the championship game saw Airdrie square off against Westlock and win the Provincial Championship by a score of 3 to 1.

While the games began early in the morning on March 11, hockey action took a break at 1:45 in the afternoon to hold the opening ceremonies. At eight teams, led by Drayton Valley, were brought into the arena carrying their team banners and were joined by both Pete the Puck and Drayton's own Thunder Dog. The ceremony was especially colorful with the coaching team from Thorby sporting bright red tartans as they made their way across the ice. Also in bright red was a member of the Drayton Valley RCMP who also attended the opening ceremonies.

After the singing of O Canada accompanied by flag bearers, greetings and congratulations were given by representatives from sponsor ATB, Mayor Glenn McLean for the Town of Drayton Valley, MLA Mark Smith, and one of Drayton Valley Pee Wee team coaches, Josh Zanolli. The ceremonial puck drop followed with the team captains from Drayton Valley and High Prairie on ice as Pete the Puck, did the honours.

Drayton Valley's first game on March 11 saw the locals overcome a 5-3 deficit to finish the game with a 6-6 tie against Airdrie. Later in the day, the team played High Prairie and beat them with a 10-6 score.

On Saturday, Drayton Valley played against Kitchissippi in a heart breaker that saw the locals prevented Drayton from scoring on a few dozen opportunities, and the team finished in third place despite a valiant effort.

Spectators at Provincials were also kept busy with raffles for items ranging from gift baskets to an assortment of movie items.

Team captains from Drayton Valley and High Prairie wait for the ceremonial puck to be dropped by Pete the Puck, mascot of Hockey Alberta during opening ceremonies held March 11.

Since this was the opening ceremonies for the Pee Wee Provincials, coaches of the Thorby hockey team decided to dress up in style by wearing kiltos on the ice. Brr!

Drayton Valley's host team, Pee Wee Rangers, were the first team to be escorted into Omplex 1 during the opening ceremonies of the Pee Wee Provincials, hosted by Drayton Valley March 11, 12 and 13. (More photos will be posted on Facebook).

NASP Provincials coming to Drayton Valley

Mamta Lalka
Western Review

The National Archery in the Schools Program (NASP) Provincial Tournament is coming to Drayton Valley for the second year in a row in April.

Both Safari Club International (SCI) Drayton Valley Chapter and Brazeau Bowbenders are hosting the event as they did last year.

"We are really excited and we are proud that we get to showcase NASP to our community again and last year we were such a huge success that we are hoping we will be bigger and better," said NASP coordinator for SCI Jean-Anne Telles.

Both organizations are proud of hosting the provincial tournament in the local community. Telles confirmed that NASP program is in all Drayton Valley schools that offer Grade 4 to 12 and also schools in Breton and Tofield.

Registration for the event is open until mid-April and there have been more than 1,000 participants so far, a number that's higher than last year.

For the event, Telles and Leonard Claffey, NASP provincial coordinator for Brazeau Bowbenders, asked for $5,000 from Brazeau County and Town of Drayton Valley and received $1,000 from the County. They hadn't heard back from the Town as of last week.

The total cost of putting the event together is about $15,000.

"The entire event budget is estimated at $15,000 and whatever funds aren't raised in grants or sponsorships, SCI Drayton Valley and the Brazeau Bowbenders will pick up between them to ensure the event still takes place," said Telles.

She was thankful for the County's support towards the event.

"We are receiving $1,000 which is still awesome to put to the event and some councillors are volunteering and they are supporting us that way, too, which is always welcome," she said.

Schools from various parts of the province are participating and coming to Drayton Valley for the tournament, including Cadotte Lake, Grimshaw and Cardston.

Both organizations are hoping school students who are heading to Drayton Valley from other parts of the province will stay in the area for a night, which didn't happen last year.

"We hoped that a lot more out of communities take advantage and stay overnight, but a lot of them went back home the same day. But we really hope the this year some of the schools that are travelling five to six hours away may decide to make a couple days of it in Drayton Valley and check out what they can do in Town," said Telles.

Local powerlifter brings home first place

Justine Kimodan
Western Review

On March 12, a young powerlifter won first place at the 100% Raw Powerlifting Battle of the North competition held at the TransAlta Tri Leisure Centre in Spruce Grove.

Eleven-year-old Liam Vanees was cheered on by fans as he broke a national record in bench press and a world record in deadlift.

"He was a crowd favourite and the whole crowd cheered as he made a national record in his bench press of 121 lbs. and a world record in deadlift of 253 lbs. for his age and weight class," said Kerry Doran, mother of Vanees. "He failed at his world record attempt on squat as he did not squat low enough, but that is okay because he still holds the previous record of 195 lbs."

Vanees said he is grateful to have family and friends support him in his endeavours.

"I am surprised that I can do what I do," he said. "I am very thankful for the support I receive from my friends and family. I also attribute my success to my friends and coaches at Drayton Valley Crossfit."

Having experienced bullying in school pushed Vanees to get into powerlifting.

"He started Crossfit at nine years old because he was being bullied about being fat in school," said Doran. "He got hurt at school one day and when at the hospital, the doctor told him this would not have happened if he wasn't fat. After talking to him about how he felt about his body, I told him to try a sport that worked with his body type."

To help Vanees, Doran started looking for a sport that her son can do.

In November 2015, I started talking to friends that were in the powerlifting circuit and after finding out more information about it, I asked him if he was interested in powerlifting. He answered with a 'heck yeah.' He immediately started training with Joel Baryluk, who was running an eight-week barbell club at Crossfit," she said. "He really wanted to try Crossfit so I talked to Phil Hammar, owner of Drayton Valley Crossfit, who agreed to let him try it. Vanees had a determination to succeed and did he ever! The doctor's words sparked a fire under him. He is now a confident kid that promotes success in others by just being himself."

Vanees said feeling good about oneself is one of the greatest things about powerlifting.

"I love how it makes me feel. I love to work out and feel my muscles burn," he said. "I love what my body can do for me. Having a good self-image is the biggest win overall."

Doran said she is proud of her son's accomplishments.

"I am very happy that he found a sport that he is passionate about," she said. "He found a lot of amazing mentors at Crossfit and we all watch over him to ensure he is always being safe while working out. I find myself getting carried away with excitement when I see my children achieve their goals. It is amazing to see them succeed."

ENTWISTLE
The temperature seems a little too good to be true. I guess we'll have to wait and see what Mother Nature has in store for March! Highlights from February include:

The boys' basketball team completed the regular season with a record of 7-11. This earned them a home playoff game on Tuesday, March 1st. Come on out and cheer on the Entwistle Eagles. There is a coffeehouse and halibut paper air place thingy contest.

EVERGREEN
On Friday, March 11 and Saturday, March 12, the Central Alberta Regional Science Fair was held at Bowyer Place Mall in Red Deer, L. 9 grade students, Natasha Babool, and Annika Winter, participated for their first time ever and they were awarded a Bronze Medal for their project "Do vitamin C levels diminish with cooking?" After judging on Friday, they were guests at the Red Deer Regional College for science experiments using liquid nitrogen! For more information about this event, visit www.centaureasentwistle.ca.

As part of the grade four science curriculum, students have been building Lego Mindstorm robots and learning how to program them. The boys and girls have been working hard to learn all the components of their robot so that they can use them to solve a real-world environmental problem. Special guests from Vermilion Energy and Wild Horse School Division joined the class on 11 day, March 11 to learn about how to program the robot's touch sensor.

On March 14, Ms. Shalynn Cavanagh joined the Evergreen School family. She is teaching music and Grade Five Science. Welcome!

Portfolios and report cards for Term 2 have been sent home and Student Led Conferences will be held on Wednesday, March 23

Please check your child's agenda for more information or contact the office for specific times. Remember - our spring break begins on Thursday, March 24 and students return to school on Monday, April 4.

NEWS FROM THE LIBRARY:
When ordering Scholastic book orders you will notice a difference in price from the book to the order form. That is because the book prices do NOT include tax. The amount on the order sheet DOES include tax. If you have more than 1 student, you can put both orders together and enclose only 1 cheque, made out to "Scholastic Canada Ltd." Please make sure that your child's name is on the order forms. Thank you so much for your support as this helps us to supplement our library with free books.

If your child has a library book that needs replacing, please do not do it yourself. Have your child return it to the library and tell Mrs. Lord about it so that she can repair it. She has special glue or tape for repairs. The library program automatically generates emails for overdue library books even though it is only 1 day late. This is only a reminder and your child does not get penalized for this, especially on days that she is absent.

We are now accepting Preschool-Grade 8 registrations for the 2016-2017 school year. Registration forms are available at the office.

3 year old Preschool students must be 3 years of age by September 1st, 2016.

4 year old Preschool students must be 4 years of age by December 31, 2016.

Kindergarten students must be 5 years of age by December 31, 2016.

If you have a child/children currently enrolled at St. Anthony School, you do not have to fill out a Registration Form.

If you have any questions please feel free to drop by or call the office 780-542-1396.

In Memoriam

In Memory of Jarret Mark Wright January 28, 1978- March 25, 2007

We think of you today
But that's nothing new
We think of you yesterday
And yesterday is today
We think of you today
And make no outward show
For what it means to lose you
Only those who love you know
How much you are missed
It's the heartache of losing you
That will never go away.

Those who loved and remembered

Thank You Notes

On behalf of Trent and Braylee Waltz, Bruce and Donna Clemmer, we would like to express our gratitude for all the food, flowers, love and caring support so many have shown us with the loss of our Beloved Maegan Nicole Aleno Waltz. The huge numbers who joined us in the "Celebration of Maegan's Life" on March 7th, were a testament of how many lives Maegan has touched. Maegan's Grandmother Patricia Jenkins, and Trent's Mother Karen Waltz, also felt comfort from all who were present. A very special thank you to Terlyne Raab, one of Maegan's closest friends, who put together the pictures and music reflecting her wonderful, but short life. Many thanks to Reverend Emma Vickery for officiating the beautiful service, Doreen Olson and Scott Kupsch for their tributes to Maegan; to our Soloist Dusty Winter, Pianist Janice Zalkach, Choir Leader Tammy Flett and the Valley Voices. They all made the Celebration of Maegan's Life memorable. We will build on the great memories of Maegan's life and share with Braylee as she is gratefully so much like her dear mother.

Thank you to Everyone

Keep watching for information coming home with your child! Important Reminders:
Please ensure that your child is dressed appropriately for Alberta weather. Our playground can be quite windy. Bus student's need to be well prepared in case a bus should break down. Please label all jackets, lunch bags, shoes, hats, boots (visibly on the outside) and snow pants. We often have incidences of students wearing the wrong footwear. It will be outdoor recess unless weather drops below -20.

Please ensure that you use the crosswalk when you drop off your children. We want our students to be safe at all times.
There is a Handicapped parking spot on the South side of the crosswalk in the front of the school. It is marked with blue paint. Please make sure that you are not parked in this spot, as this spot needs to be available for those whom require it.

Please pull into a parking spot (where there is NO yellow paint) when dropping off or picking up students in the back or front parking lots of the school.
Office hours are 8:00-4:00. Parents please make sure you call the office or email kleriemlemeyer@starcatholic.ab.ca if your child will be late or absent. If you have reached the answering machine please leave a message as staff are unavailable to answer the phone.
